American Psychological Association (APA) Quick Reference

The following guidelines and examples are from the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed., 2001). The Publication Manual of American Psychological Association provides a comprehensive reference guide to writing using APA style, organization, and content. Please check with your professor or instructor concerning the appropriate style for your particular class. You can find the most recent copy of this book in the Reference Department of the library or you can visit the APA website at http://www.apa.org/

Important Notes:

- APA style requires double-spaced reference lists. The following examples are single-spaced to conserve space.
- In the titles of books and articles, capitalize only the first word, the first word after a colon or a dash, and proper nouns.
- Although the following titles are underlined, APA style allows for consistent use of either italics or underlining.
- Remember to remove the hyperlink when typing URLs.
